Editorial Statement

In the last issue there was an error about the hours that the CoffeeOpp is open. The Coffee Opp is open 4pm-10pm Tuesday-Saturday, come by and check it out!

Check it, this is the second issue of Humboldt Grassroots! We have gotten a lot of really good feed back that can only improve last one

The second issue is building on the successes and correcting the failings of the previous issue.

So let's get started, on the last page (of last issue) there were a few typos that we missed in the editing process. Also unfortunately some of the information in the Coffee-opp article was incorrect, the times the coffee-opp is open Tuesday through Saturday 4pm to 10pm not just Tuesday as was mistakenly written.

That was the minor stuff, as Humboldt Grassroots (editors) we apologize for the way we dealt with the underground destruction derby article. It's placement in the paper may have caused confusion and misunderstanding for some readers. The Underground destruction derby article because we felt the article would bring an issue to light that needs to be discussed, that just because something is "outlaw" doesn't make it okay, or even rebellious. We intended by putting the article in, to contrast Anarchists working for positive change here and now represented throughout the paper with the subculture of outlaws that see irresponsibility and recklessness as a virtue (doing something wrong cause nobody stops you) at least in practice. While getting together and having fun with friends is great, to get freedom, we have to as individuals and a community take responsibility for our actions. Responsibility means taking care of ourselves, each other, the health of the environment and finally taking responsibility for realizing our dreams. Now this is a much taller order than just not wanting authorities ruling over us, it is to act, organize, and relate with each other in a way that proves we don't need bosses. The destruction derby article was a fictionalized account of actual events as was stated in the beginning and all and all was an entertaining article, however Humboldt Grassroots printing such a article was not meant in any shape or form to be an endorsement of that event (if damaged the environment something fierce, and besides doesn't represent what were trying to do). Also the tone of the article was not advocacy in any way. We hope you enjoy this Paper and hopefully it inspires you to be a more active participant in your world.

Sincerely Humboldt Grassroots editors
